

MUSIC – AAA Not Just Rock scoreboard is looking for musicians from Turin

March 29, 2022 by Bello

One of the first participants in ROCK report card They are still playing, others have hung the instrument on a nail and others are telling their children the excitement of going up on that stage. It's been 32 years since the first release, but Scoreboard isn't just rock music It continues to relentlessly write the history of Turin's music, hosting the youthful ferment of bands and soloists who have music in their heads, perhaps just as it did for their parents a few decades ago.

Now as then, the event has not changed, more than anything else it has grown in importance, and has become a beautiful stage for those who have something to say in music. Still at its origins, Pagella Non solo Rock is a music competition aimed at young musicians, groups and soloists who propose their own songs for which section is dedicated to the competition, or even tributes and classics to the individual out of competition, any musical genre, without restrictions.

To participate, you must be a resident or resident of Turin and a metropolitan city, not be 23 years old at the time of registration, attend at least one or member of high schools (competition division), under 23, university workers or students (out-of-competition)).

The 32nd edition of these days has opened registrations, absolutely free, which will close on Tuesday, April 26th. To participate, simply accept the regulations and fill out the form on the page <https://form.jotformeu.com/90314629663359>

Review

In accordance with the epidemic emergency, live groups will be held in an outdoor venue equipped to host live artistic events, hopefully in the presence of the public. All event information will be published on the website <http://www.comune.torino.it/pagerock/>

A specialized jury – made up of musicians, critics and industry experts, will select, through live events, the top 5 groups or soloists who will make it to the final. But the audience will also be asked to express their preference for live selections. For each evening, it will be possible to vote on the web for your favorite group or soloist using the comment/voting mechanism which – at the end of selections and counting – will allow a sixth group or soloist in competition with the most votes received, to participate in the final match on the same terms as the finalists. The other five finalists were voiced by the jury.

During the entire edition, some free services will be available to participants: webpage, video clips, photos, reviews, radio interviews, full audios of live selections, content to be published on the website and on Pagella Non Solo Social channels.

The Turin event also signed a collaboration with a startup dedicated to the world of music, MUSICTOGO, which offers vouchers worth 480 euros to spend in the rehearsal room of your choice.
